Turning Sun Solar, together with selected Engineering, Procurement, and Construction (EPC) partner Barton Malow, is excited to host our first community Job Fair!

This drop-in style event will bring together community members and project partners to learn more about the employment opportunities connected to the Turning Sun Solar Project. From skilled trades to project support roles, a wide range of positions will be needed throughout construction.

The Job Fair is an important step in connecting local talent with our Project Team and EPC partner, ensuring community members are well-positioned to take part in the Project's success.
